Coquillettidia perturbans

- Overwinters as a larva\(^1\)
- Larvae use a modified serrated siphon to attach to submerged aquatic vegetation\(^4\)
- Produces a single annual aquatic brood\(^3\)
- Females feed primarily at night on birds and mammals\(^1,3\)
- Potential vector for eastern equine encephalitis\(^1\)